Jordana Buchanan

Hi, I'm Jordana from Regina, Saskatchewan.

I've been living with metastatic breast cancer since March of 2012. I've had the great fortune of accessing numerous drugs during that time to keep my cancer in check.

There is some scientific evidence that suggests that returning to one of my previous drugs may prove successful, however, I cannot access that drug in Saskatchewan.

I had access the first time through a clinical trial, and it's been approved in Canada now, but only as a first-line therapy. I'm far beyond my first-line therapy and I'm running out of options.

Please sign the mBC access petition to help us get lifesaving drugs to those of us who need them. Thanks so much.
